DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group I and Species 1 in the reply filed on 4/9/09 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that a search for the elected invention would necessarily entail a search for the non-elected invention. This is not found persuasive because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement. Furthermore, these inventions are distinct for the reasons given in the restriction requirement and have acquired a separate status in the art by their different classification and/or have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper..

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Specification

2. Applicant is reminded of the proper content of an abstract of the disclosure.

A patent abstract is a concise statement of the technical disclosure of the patent and should include that which is new in the art to which the invention pertains. If the patent is of a basic nature, the entire technical disclosure may be new in the art, and the abstract should be directed to the entire disclosure. If the patent is in the nature of an improvement in an old apparatus, process, product, or composition, the abstract should include the technical disclosure of the improvement. In certain patents, particularly those for compounds and compositions, wherein the process for making and/or the use thereof are not obvious, the abstract should set forth a process for making and/or use thereof. If the new technical disclosure involves modifications or alternatives, the abstract should mention by way of example the preferred modification or alternative.

The abstract should not refer to purported merits or speculative applications of the invention and should not compare the invention with the prior art.

Where applicable, the abstract should include the following:

- (1) if a machine or apparatus, its organization and operation;
- (2) if an article, its method of making;
- (3) if a chemical compound, its identity and use;

- (4) if a mixture, its ingredients;
- (5) if a process, the steps.

Extensive mechanical and design details of apparatus should not be given.

- 3. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure.

The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phrasology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details.

The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

- 5. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Uhlmann et al (US 4,393,566) in view of N. A. Franks (US 3,568,488).

Re claim 1: Uhlmann discloses a) uncoiling the drawn tube material from a storage device, b) straightening the drawn tube material, c) annealing and subsequently cooling the drawn tube material before or after cutting, for separation into tube portions, to the starting length (Abstract, entire cols. 1-7), except for bending the tube portions into a U-shape.

Franks discloses bending the tube portions into a U-shape (Fig. 7).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Uhlmann by bending the tube portions into a U-shape, as taught by Franks, for the purpose of meeting the design criteria.

Re claims 2, 5: Uhlmann discloses that the drawn tube material or the tube portions are subjected to quality control in one of steps a) to c) and after cutting to length for separation into tube portions, defective tube portions are sorted out after the quality control (col. 7, lines 10-13; it is inherent that if the desire results are not met, the tube portions are discarded from the ones that met the desire results).

Re claims 3-4: Uhlmann discloses that the drawn tube material (i) is flushed with inert gas and the inert gas flows counter to the direction in which the drawn tube material (I) is uncoiled (col. 1, lines 44-68 and entire cols. 2-7).

Conclusion

6. Please provide reference numerals (either in parentheses next to the claimed limitation or in a table format with one column listing the claimed limitation and another column listing corresponding reference numerals in the remark section of the response to the Office Action) to all the claimed limitations as well as support in the disclosure for better clarity (optional). Applicants are duly reminded that a full and proper response to this Office Action that includes any amendment to the claims and specification of the application as originally filed requires that the applicant point out the support for any amendment made to the disclosure, including the claims. See 37 CFR 1.111 and MPEP 2163.06.
